

Red zone - evacuate after a long or strong earthquake, or in any official tsunami warning.

Orange zone - evacuate after a long or strong earthquake, or in an official warning of a tsunami that could flood land (bigger than 1 metre wave height at coast above normal sea level at the time).

Yellow zone - evacuate after a long or strong earthquake, or in an official warning of a tsunami that could flood land (bigger than 8 metres wave height at coast above normal sea level at the time).

If you feel a long (more than a minute) or strong (hard to stand up) earthquake, evacuate all zones.
